Opens Factory Branch in New York to Handle Bigger Business.

Last week saw the formal opening of the new branch of the Dort Motor Car Company at 58th Street and Broadway, under the management of F. L. Sanford. This is the only direct factory branch maintained by the Dort Company, the entire output of which is handled through twentyfive main distribution points. For the New York territory, however, it was found that a direct factory branch was the most satisfactory way of handling the business, so the opening of the branch, marking a departure from long established Dort policy, was a notable occasion for the entire ed with the multitude-and her organization and all the dealers in Italian is very good.
